

I am concerned about Pappas' use of the public airways to promote Republican candidates (only) in my state of California. I believe they should be required to give equal time to the other candidates, no matter what their party and I consider this an abuse of the public airways (which they use for free). This is the second large corporation that's trying to use public airways to sway elections. Democracy is sometimes a tedious process but it's worked here in the USA for a long time and it's fair. This is not democracy and it's not fair. Thank you, Karen Moore
